KAA
KNOWLEDGE ADVISOR ASSOCIATES

Sometimes families need help organizing their children's learning. Doing so has become more complicated than managing finances: families have to take into account learners' performance at formal learning centers and participation in community learning opportunities; create family-learning time; consider the use of cognitive enhancements; and provide nutritious, "learning" meals, among other dimensions. It can be hard to know where to turn for help with such important decisions.

KNOWLEDGE ADVISOR ASSOCIATES

Knowledge Advisor Associates (KAA) supports decision making by offering seminars for families and by certifying local experts, called learning asset counselors, to help families navigate their local learning geographies and craft a thriving learning ecology. KAA seminars and professionals help families realize what learning assets are available and demonstrate how they can bring them together in a simple and effective way. What peer-to-peer learning communities are meeting in your neighborhood? What local learning quests scheduled for the coming year fit your family's needs and interests? What are the best tools for coordinating all these activities? What are the pros and cons of using cognitive enhancements? How can your family cultivate a social network that will encourage good long term learning habits? How can your family be more mindful about setting and attaining learning goals?

The KAA network of trusted professionals knows the local community. Through seminars or one-on-one advisory sessions, they show families how to build their own learning support systems. Whether you live in a learning desert or a learning oasis, KAA's trusted services will help you craft a thriving learning lifestyle for life.
